Certified School District Ambassador

Certified School District Ambassadors are part of the national Moms for America®, Empower Moms team. Certified School District Ambassadors provide support and resources for parents and establish relationships with teachers and school board members in the school district.

Certified School District Ambassadors are trained by Moms for America on issues and best practices related to school district issues and engagement. They provide valuable information, resources, updates, and training for parents, teachers, and school board members in their school district. Certified Ambassadors will be empowered and equipped to act individually and as a team - our goal is to promote truth, protect our children, preserve our freedoms, and restore our Republic.

If you are interested in volunteering as a School District Ambassador, please contact Kristen Smith.

Certified Ambassadors are part of the national Empower Moms team. They can be a member of a local Moms for America® Group or an Affiliate (an individual not part of a Moms for America Group) serving as point of contact for the school district they live in.

The Empower Moms team has created an entire program to equip our Certified Ambassadors with everything needed to succeed. Training and certification include a 4-week webinar class hosted by Empower Moms Director Aly Legge that will prepare Ambassadors to interact with the local school board and officials. The classes will cover all the important information Ambassadors must know to effectively work with their local school district and administration.
