

Cameras in the Classroom

Some parents, community members and police are calling for cameras in the classroom.

Unless the school has a personal policy against having cameras on campus, legally it is acceptable to install them. School officials can also confirm with the school's lawyer. Although many people cite privacy issues when it comes to security camera installation, it is not technically illegal to have them in the classroom.

If classroom cameras are rejected by your district, you can suggest that live streamed and recorded audio recordings can be completed.
